

The University of Georgia

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA, VETERINARY TEACHING HOSPITAL IS SEEKING REGISTERED VETERINARY TECHNICIANS FOR ANESTHESIA

Come join the team of veterinary professionals that work alongside renowned clinicians at the University of Georgia Veterinary Teaching Hospital! Located in beautiful and lively Athens, Georgia, the new Veterinary Teaching Hospital is in a 300,000 sq. ft., state of the art, facility.

We have career opportunities for Veterinary Technicians who want to use their license to practice high quality animal medicine. Not only will you be able to work in an academic teaching setting, but also you will be a part of a unique animal care environment.

2+ years of advanced experience preferred in anesthesia and a comfort level in handling both large and small animals is a plus. Emergency on call duty is required on a rotating basis.

Benefits include a 4 day work week, annual leave, sick leave, medical insurance, retirement, uniform and CE allotment, paid holidays, life insurance, discounted pet care and food.

To apply for our amazing job opportunities, go to: www.ugajobsearch.com then select staff positions and look for RVT I and RVT II openings. Or contact the Vet Teaching Hospital HR staff at slane@uga.edu or call 706.542.4459.

