

The Veterinary Referral and Emergency Center (VREC) is currently seeking an Anesthesia/Surgery Technician to join our great family; new graduates encouraged to apply but preference given to an experienced applicant.

Our hospital, privately owned, with established staff and referring veterinary relationships, is located in South Abington Twp., an affluent suburb in northeast, PA. The building opened in 2010 and we are currently planning and preparing for an expansion. The hospital is well equipped with new monitoring equipment, in-house labs, digital radiography, ultrasound, endoscopy, mechanical ventilator, and complete nuclear medicine capabilities. We have the only 24/7/365 MRI in the northeast outside of Cleveland, and receive many referrals from University teaching hospitals.

We currently provide 24/7/365 emergency, critical care, internal medicine, surgery, neurology, and cardiology services. We are continuing to expand to include, oncology, dermatology, ophthalmology, and other specialties.

VREC offers a pleasant work environment with balance for one's personal life. We offer an incredible schedule. An ideal candidate is a motivated, good humored, compassionate technician with excellent communications skills, and the desire to practice advanced anesthesia and perioperative care. Candidates will work with other experienced licensed technicians, and a dedicated support staff, all committed to excellence, teaching and learning. We have a very social and supportive staff environment of almost 60 members. VREC participates in veterinary technician internships, and veterinary technician and veterinary student externships.
