

Make the Move – Join Our Pod at ORCA on Vancouver Island!

Are you a Registered Veterinary Technologist with a passion for anesthesia and surgical care? Do you dream not only of advancing your career, but also of living on the beautiful West Coast surrounded by ocean views, hiking trails, and a laid-back Island lifestyle?

This could be your chance!

ORCA – Orthopedic & Referral Centre for Animals – is seeking a dedicated RVT to join our team at our privately owned surgical referral hospital on Vancouver Island, BC. This is more than just a job – it's an opportunity to start fresh in one of the most scenic corners of Canada while working in a supportive environment where your growth and well-being are top priorities.

What We're Looking For

- Minimum one year of clinical experience with anesthesia with a strong understanding of pharmaceuticals, anatomy, and physiology.
- Preference given to candidates pursuing or holding VTS (Anesthesia & Analgesia).
- Must be (or be eligible to become) a member in good standing with the BCVTA.
- A positive attitude and eagerness to learn are essential!

What We Offer

At ORCA, we value our team members' happiness and success:

- Paid BCVTA dues, generous CE allowance & paid CE days.
- Medical & dental benefits including a health spending account, and 3 weeks of paid vacation.
- Competitive wages: $32–$38/hour (negotiable for a VTS).
- Set schedules with an averaging agreement – say goodbye to the 5-day grind!
- No weekends. No on-call. More time to enjoy Island life.
- Extra perks like stylish Figs scrubs, family/personal pet discounts, and direct support for specialization in surgery, anesthesia, or pain management.

Why Vancouver Island?

Imagine finishing your shift and being just minutes away from beaches, forests, and mountains. Vancouver Island offers an unbeatable lifestyle – whether you're into kayaking, hiking, surfing, or simply enjoying a slower pace of life with incredible local food, art, and community.

We're more than a workplace – we're building a pod. If you've been looking for a unicorn clinic, maybe a whale will suit you better! Applications can be sent to: amanda.barker@orcavet.ca

Apply today and take the plunge – your new life and career on Vancouver Island are waiting.

ORCA is an equal opportunity employer and welcomes applicants from diverse backgrounds.
